THE [Numb. 842.]

MARYLAND GAZETTE,

Containing the lateſt Advices foreign and domeſtic.

THURSDAY, June 25, 1761.

VIENNA, March 27.

ALL the Applications made to induce this Court to conſent to a Peace have had no Effect, and will always prove ineffectual, whilſt the Courts of London and Berlin refuſe to put the Empreſs Queen in Poſſeſſion of Sileſia. So far are we from the Thoughts of Peace, that very Thing hath been got ready with the utmoſt Diligence for a vigorous Campaign, from which we have great Expectations. One Thing only makes us apprehenſive that we ſhall not derive from it all the Advantages we might otherwiſe hope for, as it would totally diſconcert our Plan of Operations; It is rumoured that the Court hath received Letters from Hungary, which adviſe that the Hoſpodar of Walachia hath revolted, without aſſigning the Reaſon; and that he hath implored the Protection of the Ottoman Porte, in Conſequence of which the Turks deſign to aſſemble an Army of 60 or 50,000 Men in the Neighbourhood of Belgrade. The Empreſs Queen only waits for Confirmation of this News to ſend General Buccow with 15,000 Men, to bring the Rebels to Reaſon.

Hanau, March 22. M. Broglio, after ſtaying a few Days at Gieſſen, has removed his Head Quarters to Marpurgh. He cloſely follows the Allies, who are intrenching themſelves beyond the Ohm; but as they expect to be attacked by the French, they have by way of Precaution, ſent away their heavy Baggage to Fritzlar.

The Amſterdam Gazette ſays, that on the 21ſt of March the Corps of the Hereditary Prince of Brunſwick, in the Neighbourhood of Grunberg, was attacked by Order of Marſhal Broglio. That the French made 2600 Priſoners, took 8 Colours, one Standard, and 12 Pieces of Cannon. But according to other Accounts the French took only 150 Hunters, and 2 Officers, belonging to the Prince's Rear-Guard, Priſoners.

Peterſburgh, March 10. Tho' we have had much Talk of Peace here for ſome Time, we do not yet find that this Salutary Work is likely to be ſoon effected; on the contrary, Things ſeem to announce a Campaign as bloody as any of the preceding.

Prague, March 26. If the King of Pruſſia ſhould keep his Forces in Saxony, General Laudohn will join the grand Army with the greateſt Part of his own; and General Haddick will command a ſmall Corps in the County of Glatz to cover Bohemia on that Side.

Vienna, March 28. We have received a Courier from Count Daun, but nothing tranſpires as to the contents of his Diſpatches. It is a fact that General Buccow is ſet out for Tranſylvania, in order to appeaſe ſome ſmall Troubles which have ariſen in that Principality. We are alſo likely to have ſome little Diſputes with the King of Sardinia, who claims abſolutely the Dotchy of Placentia, in Virtue of the Treaty of Aix la Chapelle.—The Equity of Redemption to the Marquiſate of Final, on Repayment of Twelve Hundred Thouſand Crowns to the Republic of Genoa. He ſets up a Title alſo to a certain Country that belonged formerly to his Family. The Inſinuation of Count Czernicheff gives our Miniſters alſo ſome Diſquiet.

Erfurth, March 28. His Pruſſian Majeſty is at preſent at Gieſſen, to which Place he came, accompanied only by Gen. Luſemark and another Officer, without either Guards or Attendants. It is believed he will leave the Command in Saxony to Prince Henry of Pruſſia, and that his Majeſty will ſpeedily put himſelf at the Head of his Forces in Sileſia.

Vienna, March 28. Gen. Buccow is gone to Tranſylvania, to put a Stop to ſome Troubles there.

A Corps of 600 Banaliſts paſſed the Danube in our Neighbourhood on Thurſday Morning, going to join the grand Army in Saxony.

Our future Operations are ſo well combined with the Court of France, that we have Reaſon to expect the moſt ſignal Victories. All our Armies are complete: They even account to 10,000 Men more than they did in the laſt Campaign.

Leipſic, March 29. We are told that ſince Marſhal Daun has retaken the Command of the Auſtrian Army, he has paſſed over the Elbe at Rieſa, a Corps of about 6000 Men, who have taken poſt at Thaln, and puſhed ſome Parties within a League of Meiſſen.

The Pruſſians are preparing to open the Campaign with ſome Coup d'Eclat.

Weymar, March 28. The Detachment of Pruſſian Troops which has been here for ſome Time, left us Yeſterday, after having raiſed between Two and Three Thouſand Recruits in this Town and its Neighbourhood, and taxed the Country at 30,000 Crowns by Way of Contribution.

The Magazine which the Pruſſians had Eſtabliſhed at Zeitz, is juſt tranſported to Lomatſch, two Miles from Meiſſen.

Frankfort, April 4. All Marſhal Broglio's Projects are accomplished. There has not been any Thing done this War comparable, for military Science, to what he has executed within the laſt two Months.——Perhaps there has been nothing ſeen ſo great ſince the famous Campaign of Alſace by the immortal Turene.

The Allies have repaſſed the Dymel, it's thought the French Troops will remain ſome Time in their Quarters of Cantonment in Heſſe. Their Chief will be very glad to give them a little Repoſe; tho' they have been cantoned every Day during the late Operations, while the Allies lay every Night on their Arms, and ſuffered extremely.

Nothing yet of Conſequence has happened in Saxony. The King of Pruſſia, on the 26th paſt, viſited the Line of Troops which he has in the Neighbourhood of Freyberg, and afterwards returned to his Head-Quarters at Meiſſen.

Hanover, April 4. Our Army is now cantoned on this ſide the Dymel, to recover of its Fatigues.

The Garriſon of Gottingen has again put a Garriſon into Nordheim. Colonel Colignon, who occupied that Poſt with ſome Battalions, abandoned it the 27th ult. and loſt 220 Men, and two Pieces of Cannon.

Four Hundred ſick Troops which the Allies left at Fritzlar, have fallen into the Hands of the Marquis de Poyanne, who now occupies that Place.

Frankfort, April 2. The Day before Yeſterday Count Broglio marched out of Caſſel with his Garriſon, and attacked the Rear Guard of the Hanoverians, took from them four Pieces of Cannon, ſeveral Waggons of Ammunition, and made between 4 and 500 Priſoners; but we have not yet received the Detail of this Affair. Marſhal Broglio lay that Night at Caſſel. This Day they were to ſing Te Deum for the Deliverance of that Place.

Head-quarters of Prince Ferdinand's Army at Werkel, March 28. The Army arrived on the 23d in the Neighbourhood of Neuſtadt, without having a ſingle Muſket fired on its Rear; and we have continued our March without being much annoyed.

The French Garriſon of Ziegenhayn, joined by ſome Cavalry, obliged the Troops, which were lodged on the 25th at Lemsfield, to retire from that Village with Loſs. A Battalion of the Britannick Legion, poſted at Netze, hath been roughly handled there by 3000 of the Enemy.

We have an Account from the Empire, that Major-General Schenkendorff, with a Body of Pruſſians, had attacked, in the Neighbourhood of Saalfeld, a Detachment of the Army of the Circles, conſiſting of ſix Battalions, and 800 Horſe, had totally defeated them, having taken one Colonel, one Major, 27 other Officers, 800 Men, 6 Cannon, and 4 Standards. All the Reſt of the Corps were cut to Pieces, or diſperſed.

The laſt Letters from Saxony mention, that Marſhal Count Daun arrived the 25th ult. in the Auſtrian Army at Dreſden; and that the King of Pruſſia was at Freybourg, about four German Miles from thence the 16th, and by the Pruſſian Movements it was thought they had a Deſign againſt Dreſden, but it is ſince conjectured they had changed their Plan of Operations.

Letters from Amſterdam ſay, that by Accounts from Sumatra, the French had really made an Attempt on Bencoolen, but had been repulſed with great Loſs.

Three Ladies of Diſtinction will ſoon ſet out for the Court of Brunſwick, to compliment her Serene Highneſs the Princeſs of Brunſwick, on her intended Marriage with his Majeſty.

Charles the Reigning Duke of Brunſwick Wolfenbuttle Bevern, has four Sons and three Daughters; but none of them married. (According to Salmon's Modern Gazetteer) the Daughters are,

Sophia Carolina Maria, born October 7, 1737.

Ann Amelia, born October 24, 1739. And Louiſa Frederica born December 18, 1743, which is ſaid to be the Princeſs intended to be the Conſort of our moſt gracious Sovereign.

It is reported that his Royal Highneſs the Duke of York will hoiſt his Flag as Rear Admiral of the Blue, in order to eſcort to England the intended Conſort of his Majeſty, the young Princeſs of Brunſwick.

By a Letter from Portſmouth, dated the 7th Inſt. we have Advice, that Orders were come down for fitting out a Fleet as faſt as poſſible, to go on another Expedition. The men work double Hours, and by their great Diligence, it is imagined that it will be ready to ſail in about three Weeks. It is ſaid that this Fleet will conſiſt of 20 Sail of the Line, beſides Frigates and Fireſhips, and will be commanded by Sir Edward Hawke. The Tranſports that are to go on this Expedition have Orders to be in the Downs as ſoon as poſſible.

The Tranſports that are now fitting out in the River for the ſecond Expedition, are ordered, as ſoon as any of them can be compleated, to ſail immediately for the Downs, where the Rendezvous of the Fleet is to be; it is ſaid the Land Forces to be employed are to conſiſt of five Regiments of Foot, and a Draught of Grenadiers from the Guards.

His Majeſty's Sloop of War Albany, Capt. Brograve, is Returned to Portſmouth, and has brought up with her the Tourterelle, a French Frigate of 16 Guns, and 130 Men, which ſhe took off Guernſey.

Col. Burgoyne's Regiment of Light Horſe is gone to Portſmouth, in order to embark on the Expedition.

Extract of a Letter from Portſmouth, April 9.

"Monday Morning early Col. Deſagulier of the Train arrived here; and on Wedneſday ſet out in a Bomb-ketch for Quiberon-Bay, where our Expedition Fleet, we hear is aſſembled.

"Battering Cannon, Faſcines, Gabions, &c. are to follow the Colonel from hence the firſt ſpurt of Wind.

"We expect in here To-day a Company of Miners, who are to proceed with the Battering Cannon immediately to Quiberon-Bay to join our Fleet.

At Spithead Admiral Geary, with 15 Sail of Men of War."

To-morrow the Office of the Earl of Bute, Secretary of State for the Southern department, is to be removed to St. James's.

We hear from Somerſetſhire, that the Oppoſition in a certain Borough, coſt one of the Candidates above 8000 l. in three Days.

A Number of Letters by Yeſterday's Mail, particularly ſome from Aleppo, of the 8th of February, ſay, that Pondicherry was taken by the Engliſh.

They write from Germany, that on the 26th paſt the Hereditary Prince of Brunſwick, purſued by M. de Poyanne, was in Danger of falling into the Hands of the Naſſau Huſſars; but M. de Janneret, Lieutenant-Colonel of Malachowſky's Huſſars, and an Aid-de-Camp to his Serene Highneſs, by expoſing their own Perſons, and loſing their Liberty, ſaved him.

Prince Ferdinand's Army, ſuppoſing the Regiments to be all complete, as they were provided for by Parliament, would amount to 88,590 effective Men, viz. 39,773 of the Troops of Hanover, Brunſwick, Saxe-Gotha, and the Count of Lippe Buckebourg; 22,404 Heſſians; 3000 of the Britannick Legion; 3413 of a ſeparate Body of Troops of Brunſwick; and 20,000 Engliſh Infantry, Cavalry and Dragoons.

April 13. The Auſtrian Army, which is to act in Sileſia under General Laudohn, is to conſiſt of upwards of 40,000 Men, and it is imagined will ſoon be joined by 3000 Ruſſians.

An Alliance, offenſive and defenſive, is on the Point of being concluded between the Courts of Madrid and Liſbon.

"The King of Pruſſia is to cede all Sileſia to the Queen of Hungary, who in return is to ſecularize ſeveral conſidera-ble Bishopricks, and give them to the King of Prussia, which, it is imagined, will be a sufficient Equivalent for Silesia, as they lie so contiguous to his other Dominions."

His Royal Highness Prince William Henry will shortly be created Duke of Gloucester.

By a Letter from Portsmouth, dated the 12th Instant, we have Advice, that they have received an Account there, that the Troops which went out on the Expedition have made good their Landing on the Island of Belleisle, and only wait for some large Pieces of Cannon to reduce the whole Island to his Majesty's Obedience; also, that the Troops are embarked for the second Expedition, and will sail the first fair Wind.

April 14. The Accounts that have been given of his Majesty's intended Marriage, and the Ladies appointed, are Inventions, without the least Foundation. [Lloyd's Chronicle.]

Admiralty-Office, April 10. Vice-Admiral Saunders, Commander in Chief of his Majesty's Ships and Vessels in the Mediterranean, gives an Account, in his Letter of the 5th of March last, that Capt. Pownall, of his Majesty's Frigate the Favourite, had taken and sent into Gibraltar a French Privateer, fitted out at Mahon, of 12 Guns, and 84 Men.

His Majesty's Sloop the Albany, of 16 Carriage Guns, and 125 Men, commanded by Captain Brograve, is arrived at Spithead, with a French Frigate, called the Pheasant, commanded by M. la Coudray, which the Albany fell in with on the 6th Inst. at Daylight, off Plymouth, and chased till the 7th at ten in the Morning, when Captain Brograve getting along-side of her, and Firing a Broadside, she hoisted French Colours, and then struck: She was at first of equal Force with the Albany, carrying 16 carriage Guns, and 125 Men; but during the Chace, she had thrown 14 of her Guns overboard. She had been three Days from Havre de Grace, and had not taken any thing.

BOSTON, June 8.

The Prince George, from London, left Portsmouth commanded by Capt. Blake, in Company with Capts. M'Taggart and Ball for this Place, and other Vessels under Convoy of a Frigate bound for Newfoundland: She was taken on her Passage by a French Privateer Ship, after a running Fight of 3 Glasses, whereby each Vessel received much Damage: The Privateer ransomed the Ship for 9000 l. Sterling, and took on board Capt. Blake, and one of the Passengers, viz. Mr. Edmund Quincy, tertius, of this Town, Merchant, as Ransomers, and carried them to Bayonne.—They spoke with a Vessel bound for Bristol, who informed them that a new French 74 Gun Ship, but had only 40 mounted, bound to the East-Indies, was taken by an English Man of War.

A Gentleman in London writes, the 4th of April, That he had received such Information relative to a Peace as may be depended on;——That France had consented to relinquish to us all North America, if we would make Peace, and restore to her all our other Conquests made this War. That a Congress was agreed upon, and that it was to be held at Aosburgh [a large and elegant City in Germany.]——The French perceive, and are afraid of the Cloud that is gathering in Italy; and the Russians and Swedes seem to be heartily tired of the War; the Spaniards are arming; the Sardinians are not idle.——Mr. PITT still continues triumphant, and doubtless will see that we have an honourable and lasting Peace.—Our new Parliament will soon meet.——

The Supplies granted by the late Parliament for the Services of the Year 1761, amount to the Sum of £. 18,816,119 19 s. 9 d. 3 Farthings, in which Supply there is a Grant of £. 200,000 to certain Provinces in North America; £. 10,595 12 s. 9 d. for Nova-Scotia; and £. 4,057 10 s. for Georgia:—The Ways and Means for raising the Supplies amount to £. 19,101,067 10 s. which is near £. 300,000 more than the Expences of the Year 1761 will amount to.

LONDON.

April 23. Capt. Rook, Aid de Camp to General Hodgson, arrived on Sunday about Noon with an Account that a Detachment of the Forces landed the 8th Instant at Port d'Andre on the Island of Belleisle, under the Command of Brigadier Carlton, and found the Shore so defended by the Batteries and Entrenchments, that, after having sustained a severe Fire for some Hours, they were obliged to return on board the Transports, with the Loss of about 500 Men killed, wounded, and taken Prisoners. Major Purcell of Grey's Battalion, and Captain Osburn of Sir Harry Erskine's, are killed. Brigadier Carlton is wounded in the Thigh.

Extract of a Letter from an Officer on board the Expedition Fleet, dated off Belleisle, April 12, 1761.

"On Sunday the 29th of March we sailed "from Spithead, and next Day from St. Helen's. "On Tuesday in the Afternoon it was known we "were destined for Belleisle, and we bore away "for it: From that Time till Sunday the Wind "was against us. On Monday the Wind was "fair, and at Night we sent our Cutters to make "the Land; in the Morning we found ourselves "within eight Leagues of it. About 12 o'Clock "the whole Fleet came to an Anchor, and the "Afternoon was spent in making dispositions for "Landing. By Four o'Clock on Tuesday Morn-"ing, the Troops were ordered to be in the Flat-"Bottom'd Boats; at Five they were under the "Direction of those Captains who were to com-"mand the Landing. The Wind blew fresh, "and it was very Cold; the Troops continued in "the Boats, without the Ships or them moving, "till 12 o'Clock. At that Time the Sandwich "and another Ship made a Feint, as if going to "the Citadel; while the Dragon and Achilles fell "down to the southermost Part of the Island, "and were followed by the Boats. The Achilles "anchored with her Broadside within Musket-shot "of the Place we intended to land at. We were "assisted with a Bomb Vessel, and immediately "began to fire; which the French only returned "with one single Cannon, which was fired but "seldom. This gave us Courage, and the Boats "pushed for Shore; but much too soon, as some "of them were above a Mile behind.

"No sooner were the Men got out of the three "Boats which first came to land, than the French "shewed their Heads above the Entrenchments, "and gave them three Fires, which did great "Execution, and threw them into Confusion. "About 200 of the Scotch Fusileers were ashore "with Major Purcell, when one Boat of Erskine's "Grenadiers, commanded by Captain Osbourne, "landed at a Point, and drew up undiscovered. "His Situation was such, that he flanked the E-"nemy; but would you believe it? No other "Boat followed him! A few Paces brought him "on the high Ground. The French immediately "came out, and the Captain advanced with Intre-"pidity to meet them. In landing he lost his "Fuzee, therefore he drew his Sword, when a "Shot brought him down; he immediately got "up, and advanced, when a second made him "fall again; this he recovered, but still he ad-"vanced. He was now so close to the Enemy, "that he exchanged several Thrusts with their "Officers; the Men fired and then pushed their "Bayonets. The Commanders on both Sides "were killed, when our Men (about 60 landed "at this Place) having nobody to head them, "and seeing no Succours, threw down their "Arms; a few of them took to their Heels, and "not being perceived, they were taken in by a "Boat, and carried to the Ships. The Boats "were now retreating as fast as possible. A "Number of Men were killed and wounded in "the Boats; among the latter was Brigadier "Carlton, but not dangerously. Our whole "Loss, in killed and Prisoners, may be about "400. The Night and next Day the Wind blew "very hard, which damaged our Boats, and "drove some of the Transports to Sea. Yesterday "and To-day it is fine and calm, and we are em-"ployed in repairing our Boats, How we are to "proceed I cannot inform you, but the Place is "extremely well fortified."

By the French Account printed at Paris the 13th, of the Affair of Belleisle, they make the Loss of the English to amount to 800 Men, killed, wounded and Prisoners; and their own Loss only 10 Men killed and 60 wounded. The above happened the 8th Instant.

Admiralty-Office, April 21. His Majesty's Ships the Hero, commanded by Capt. William Forteſcue, and the Venus, commanded by Captain Thomas Harrison, on the 2d Instant, in the Latitude of 43. 30 N. and Longitude 11. 4. W. fell in with and took a French East India Ship, called the Bertin, pierced for 64 Guns, mounting 28, and manned with 353 Men, 93 of them Soldiers, belonging to the French East India Company, from Port L'Orient, bound to the Isle de France and Pondicherry, laden with Ordnance and Naval Stores and Merchandize, and 24,000 Dollars. She sailed in Company with the Valliant East India Ship, of the same Size and Force, and the Fidelle Frigate of 24 Guns, belonging to the Company, on the 28th past. Captain Forteſcue sent the Venus with the Prize to Plymouth, where they are arrived, and went in Quest of the other India Ship and Frigate.

The Venus has also brought to Plymouth the Lion Privateer of Bayonne, of 6 Carriage Guns and 12 Swivels, and 85 Men, which she fell in with and took the 6th Instant, in Latitude 46: 50, and Long. 15: 50 W. The Privateer had been out six Days, and had not taken any Thing.

The Captain of the Bertin French East-Indiaman, declared after she was taken, that the whole Cargo on board the said Ship was valued at 90,000 l. and that on her arrival in East-India, she was to be fitted out as a Man of War of 64 Guns.
